Was just living my life, still able to visit a doctor on my own. However, I had police smashing my door on two occasions, accusing me of being unwell. Being handcuffed, paraded in public in handcuffs, bundled into a police custody van, in public, despite my plea to be left in own house. Only to come back in the community in 3 weeks time. I wasn't self-harming or a danger to the public. But why on earth would I have my door smashed by police, just to give me medical attention. Was so traumatised. A named white care worker X X should revisit his ethics policy for treating me like a criminal. The medication was not suitable causing shakes and sedation. Lessons no need to call police and custody vans in future for simple medication. I can say I was racially abused, handcuffed, paraded in public in chains like a murderer. On both occasions I was in the shower when my doors were broken. Is

----- that a catatonic state? I deserve an apology. -----
An injection of common sense practice, pragmatically and meticulously as per N.M.C. code of conduct. Travesty, the smashing of doors and handcuffing of NAME REDACTED is such an imbroglio, poignant parading him in public in handcuffs with police in rigalia, resembling a criminal. N.M.C. code of conduct unobserved privacy and dignity and consent to treatment. Travesty being in catatonic next to moribund state. Humiliated bundled into a police custody van. A slight increase in Dopamine was

----- sensed, though controversial. -----
Smashing my door open and handcuffing me, parading me on public streets and forcing useless medication, from Charlatans should never ever be attempted again tarnishing my image on the streets. Only humiliation after humiliation and pain. Police were called to arrest me. Was handcuffed and paraded on the public streets. I was treated badly more than a murderer bundled into police vans only to be told, I am not well. The medication was wrong, causing shaking and dizziness. I was kept among violent and severely [word redacted] guys. A missed opportunity to treat me in own home, with appropriate medication. Why would a man a charlatan with travesty call police to forcibly remove one from own house in the name of catatonic or moribund state, which did not exist? The charlatans broke my door twice, further humiliating me like a drug

----- addict I was treated. -----
A pragmatic insight into the N.M.C. code of conduct. Poignant smashing my door two times, and handcuffing me and parading me in public in chains, resembling a criminal. Only tarnishing my image in public and losing privacy and dignity, as quoted by the N.M.C. code of conduct. Imbroglio, I was just having a shower when on both occasions my doors were smashed open with police and your team rendering trauma depression on me. Travesty actions not real help with unsuitable medication causing my shaking and

What was the need to racially abuse me in a travesty of imbroglio, humiliating and difficulty to understand situation. Breaking open my front door just to handcuff me and bundle me in a police custody van in public. I was still able to talk, walk etc, and was actually having a shower when my door was broken into NMC cod of conduct, empathy, dignity privacy all unobserved, tarnishing my image in public.
